You send me the details

Pop me an email with your date, location, number of guests and what you're planning.

If you're unsure what you need, I'll happily guide you — after working on so many celebrations, I can usually recommend exactly what will work best.

5

Pack everything up

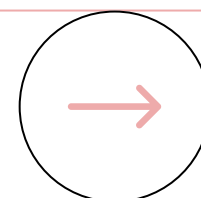

Once you're done, just pop everything back in the boxes provided — don't wash a thing. I take care of that.

I collect and reset

I collect everything, professionally wash and check it all, and prepare it for the next family celebration.
